

Celebrate Recovery

Hello Southside Family,

I hope that everyone had a great week and is looking forward to the future, one day at a time. As always, I wish to thank everyone that helped make the ministry of Celebrate Recovery possible last Thursday. Your support and help is always appreciated, and new volunteers are always welcome. I also want to thank Joyful Hearts, which includes David Martin and Doug Henderson. They ministered to us in a mighty way with their music last week, and we hope to welcome them back often in the days to come.

This week we will have music by our local "Redneck Brit", Adam Wilson. He informs me he has been working on some new songs, so we look forward to hearing him. Ms. Kristi Vargas will be sharing her testimony with us. Kristi has been in recovery for 9 years, and has been a source of help and inspiration for many of the women in the group, and we look forward to hearing how God has worked in her life.

Speaking of work - work has often been a source of trouble, pride, humility, weakness and strength for me. The list goes on. Work, basically, often is a microcosm of life itself. At work we have hierarchies, cliques, politics, duties, power struggles, relationships, and so on. Many of us spend a great deal of our life on our jobs, so in order to maintain the job and survive and try to be happy, we must learn to obey orders and play nice with others. I'm still learning.

In my addictive years, I went through many, many jobs. I quit, left for other greener pastures, and got fired for various reasons; usually involving a little test that I had difficulty in passing. Work is a college for me. I am learning and have learned more about myself on the job than anywhere else. God put me in a place in my life where I no longer only have myself to worry about, but other lives, as well. As a result, I have been forced, coerced and made willing to institute changes in my behavior that I never thought would be possible, such as biting my tongue, holding my tongue, and swallowing my pride.

Work is good for me, and has taught me much about having faith in God and my fellow man. I am grateful for my job, especially in these times, and the lessons it is teaching me.

God says to do everything for His glory, including work. That makes it much easier!

See you Thursday,
Jeff

"Don't Break My Heart"

Sunday School
Attendance Campaign

Sunday, February 12

"Don't Break My Heart" Sunday is a great opportunity to encourage attendance and participation in Bible study through our Sunday School. While we are not setting a specific attendance goal, our goal is to contact and invite each person enrolled in Sunday School, as well as F.R.A.N.'s (Friends, Relatives, Associates, and Neighbors) to be our guest. So remember to INVITE, INVITE, and INVITE people to be your guest with us in Sunday School and worship on this special day.

As part of our emphasis, the week leading up to "Don't Break My Heart" day, each person enrolled in Sunday School will receive a letter containing a puzzle piece that you are to bring with you to Sunday School February 12. Your piece of the puzzle will construct a heart that will be on display in your classroom. This heart will represent your special place in the heart of your class. A provision will be made on the puzzle for those guests that will also be in attendance.

REMINDER TO Sunday School Teachers: The items needed for the letters to your class members will be in your Sunday School class this Sunday, January 29. The material to make your heart will be available in the church library. Also, there will be an opportunity for a "heart workshop" in the fellowship building at 4:30 p.m. this Sunday to allow you to work on your class heart.

Hey guys, this is Randy Hart and I will be taking a group to Greensboro, North Carolina on Saturday, February 4 for Winterjam. It's $10.00 at the door for 10 bands. We have to go early (around 1:00 p.m.) and stand in line until the doors open but it's well worth the wait. If you want to go you can text or call at 704-819-9944.

Life Plus Discipleship Classes

Deacon Dinner

The Deacon Dinner is scheduled for Saturday, January 28 at 6:00 p.m. in the Church Fellowship Hall. Dinner will be catered by Becky Briggs and the cost will be approximately $9 per person for Deacons and their wives. There is a sign-up sheet on the Deacon bulletin board.

TV Ministry Position available

As was announced last year, Randy Hart will be transitioning out of his position as TV Ministry director over the next few months. We are thankful for his service and dedication. In looking to continue this valuable ministry, we are currently talking to individuals within the church about filling this paid part-time position. If you are interested in being considered, please contact Pastor Chris, or Mary Thompson, personnel committee chairperson for more details. We are also considering splitting this role into two separate positions, one that would be responsible for filming the Sunday morning broadcasts (approximately 2 hours per week) and a second that would be responsible for editing the broadcast on Sunday afternoon and/or Monday and sending it to MI-Connection (approximately 4 hours per week). Computer skills are required. Please pray for us as we move forward in this process.
