NOTES FROM DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

This upcoming month, we would love you to join us for our Veteran's Day Sunday Service, during which our choir will sing! We are also gearing up for this upcoming Holiday season as we prepare for our Christmas Cantata, Hanging of the Greens Service, and other Christmas events. It's not too late for you to take part! If you feel the Lord is prompting you to be a part of SBC's worship or choir ministry, I would love to talk with you! Feel free to contact me at ssbcmusicdirector@gmail.com.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

In the fall we celebrate the harvest. Indeed, this year we have much to celebrate. We have new families, we have new staff, we have many who are taking new steps in obedience to the Lord. But we also have had much affliction. October began with a deadly hurricane. For the past few weeks I have been attending to families that have experienced sudden loss. Many of you feel all the aches and pains of a body adapting to colder weather, and others are under the weather. With so much that feels off, can we still give thanks?

One book in the Old Testament that deals with affliction is the book of Lamentations. In it the prophet pours out his grief at the destruction of Jerusalem. In chapter 1 he calls out the destruction and devastation of a city in ruins while acknowledging God's justice in punishing the people's sin. In chapter 2 he details the broken relationship between God and his people. In chapter 3 he names God as the author of much of his misery. All of this is immensely helpful for sharing our hurt, anger, and pain with the Lord. But something happens in the middle of chapter 3:21 But this I call to mind, and therefore I have hope: 22 The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases; his mercies never come to an end; 23 they are new every morning; great is your faithfulness. 24 "The Lord is my portion," says my soul, "therefore I will hope in him."

In the midst of unbearable grief there is still hope, because there is steadfast love and fresh mercy. As we prepare for our Thanksgiving service (this year it takes place on Sunday, November 24th), we can hit pause on the things that are going wrong and notice the new mercies. Giving thanks isn't just for good seasons, it is especially important in the difficult ones. Though we have freedom to complain, it is better to be thankful. My prayer for you all is that you are in seasons of prosperity that make giving thanks easy. But I also know that many will have to give thanks in much affliction. Either way, we are glad to share in it all with all of you.
